South Carolina State Report Card

State and federal laws require public schools to release report cards to the public each year. This year, the report card has been updated to reflect changes in reporting directed by the SC Education Oversight Committee. Schools will not be rated for state accountability purposes until Fall 2017 when the state will transition to a single accountability system. The following reports student performance in school year 2014-15.

McCrorey-Liston School of Technology (MLST) is helping all students develop the world class skills and life and career characteristics of the Profile of the South Carolina Graduate by providing students with a rigorous curriculum incorporating the use of technology. Relationships, rigor and relevance are driving principles at MLST. The students, staff, community and families work together to create an environment where children are intellectually challenged in ways appropriate to their individual strengths, needs, and experiences. At MLST, we recognize and value the importance of collaboration in learning. Our goal is to create a community that is committed to engaging and challenging all students' academic performance. As a Professional Learning Community, we strive to excel, learn and grow together. A school-wide focus of implementing research based strategies to positively impact our learners has attributed to the success of our learning community. It is through the implementation of school-wide intervention groups, literacy and math groups, kindergarten intervention, and math and science labs that MLST is able to meet the needs of all learners. Through these strategies, we purposely integrate technology into our instructional practices to prepare all students to not only be global citizens but to be competent and competitive in the ever-changing digital society. Through the school's collaborative approach and mission of "aim high, fly high and achieve high", the school has implemented a variety of partnerships, initiatives and programs to enable our learners to "soar above all expectations". MLST partnered with Eau Claire Cooperative Health Center to open a school-based health center to provide preventive, wellness and primary health care services to continue our commitment in meeting the needs of the whole child. With the commitment to "soaring above all expectations", the school has partnered with the School Improvement Council, Parent-Teacher Association, South Carolina Chamber of Commerce, Winthrop University, and the SCANA Corporation to improve teaching and learning in order to develop world class citizens. Dr. Chandra Bell, Principal Ms. LaToya Workman, SIC Chairperson
